The CUE Center Missing Persons

Wilmington, NC - On Friday, April 16, 2010 the mother of Brittane Drexel, Dawn Drexel and CUE's founder Monica Caison will appear on the Today Show in New York concerning Brittane's case between the morning news hour of 7:00 am and 8:00 am

Keri Drexel will attend a press conference at 10:00 am in collaboration with Brittane's awareness campaign in Florida to reveal a new deck of cards featuring her niece, Brittane Drexel (2 of clubs) along with others who are missing such as Terrance Williams (5 of Spades) and Emily Hoyt (4 of Spades)
Florida Press Conference
14470 Harlee Road Palmetto, FL "off Hwy. 41"
10:00 am, Manatee County Jail

The number 2 was chosen for Brittane by her family to honor her lengthy love for the sport of soccer and that represents her last known jersey number.

On Friday, April 23, 2010 an additional new deck of cards will be released and will display numerous of unsolved South Carolina missing person cases and unsolved homicides; to include (10 of diamonds) Crystal Soles, missing from Andrews, and (2 of diamonds) Brittane Drexel, missing from Myrtle Beach. Myrtle Beach Police Department Annex at 2:00 pm

ABOUT THE PROGRAM Effective Playing Cards cards are currently being distributed to every inmate in the Florida State Prison System along with many other states that have signed up with the program, including South Carolina. Jails are the Internet of unsolved crimes, prisoners talk and information is often revealed which would never come to light. Inmates spend countless hours playing cards, so the idea to have them looking at unsolved homicides while passing the time was born. Crime Stopper decks produced by Effective Playing Cards and placed into many local jails in the State have already led to the arrest and conviction of murderers who were completely unknown to law enforcement.

Many of these cases are decades old. Law enforcement has no leads to follow. Family members are left grieving with little hope of bringing a murderer to justice or of finding closure in their sorrow. By offering these cards to the general public we keep these cases alive. We offer hope to families that someone will recognize their loved one who may have the smallest bit of information that they thought insignificant but would provide new leads to solve the case.

Note: On the behalf of the Drexel family they would like to inform the public that the recent planned event to be held in Rochester, NY April 25th in honor of missing Brittane Drexel will be postponed; the family will be traveling to Myrtle Beach, SC to join other family members in a pre-planned March and Candle light Service in honor of their loved one.

Further details please visit Brittane's web site, thank you
